

Endress+Hauser announces new representation in Wisconsin and Northern Michigan

Forberg Scientific, Inc. now the single-source supplier for all markets and industries across Wisconsin and Northern Michigan market.

September 22, 2015—Forberg Scientific, Inc. is now Endress+Hauser’s exclusive representative for Wisconsin and Northern Michigan.

Together, Endress+Hauser and Forberg provide an unparalleled offering of products, services and solutions for all industries including food and beverage, chemical, water/wastewater, life sciences, power and energy, oil and gas, primaries and metals to its customers.

“Forberg Scientific, Inc. is honored to have been appointed as Endress+Hauser’s exclusive representative and for both Wisconsin and Northern Michigan,” says Carl Derian, President, Forberg Scientific, Inc. “Wisconsin customers will benefit from Forberg’s professional sales team, breadth of product offering and technical product knowledge.”

Through offering a diversified portfolio of the highest quality instrumentation and solutions, Forberg provides customers with a single, trusted advisor to solve their toughest process measurement and control challenges. This expands Forberg Scientific’s presence as the premier instrumentation supplier in the Midwest with coverage in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Northern Ohio, Northern Michigan and Wisconsin.

“Endress+Hauser strongly believes in order for our organization to thrive and be successful in the local markets we serve, we must continue to over-proportionally invest in our representatives,” says Nick Camin, Midwest Area Vice President, Endress+Hauser.
