

The Endress+Hauser, Inc. Training Group Mission Statement

The Training Group brings value to our client companies in the process industries by facilitating effective learning experiences that develop both their employees and our associates who advise and serve them.

We transfer fundamental knowledge and teach practical skills by delivering classroom, laboratory, online and customized learning products that are designed to enhance human performance in order to improve process performance.